DAD'S ARMY

Black Head pool cleaning crew, affectionately known as "Dad's Army", has been kept busy so far this year. As well as regular weekly pool cleans, special working bees have been scheduled to clean the pool, the parking area and surrounds on the days prior to the Australia Day celebration and the ANZAC day service.

Nigel Hudson & Vic Joby

Pool cleaning begins with draining the pool at low tide, a process that takes nearly 2 hours. Then spades are used to shovel out gravel, followed by the use of heavy duty brooms to sweep the pool. The pool sides and bottom are then pressure cleaned, and the surrounds cleared of litter and hosed down. It then takes about 5 hours to refill the pool. The pool and surrounds are taped off during the whole cleaning process.

For the winter months the pool will be cleaned fortnightly, with the date and time of the next cleaning working bee listed on the door of the cleaning shed.

Red Head Walkway Upgrade

A project to upgrade the walkway in Red Head from Scenic Avenue to the steps leading to the beach has finally been completed 13 years after it was first proposed.

The walkway had become unsafe, with exposed tree roots, subsidence and washaways making it an uncomfortable and at times hazardous trek to the beach. This was one of 7 projects that the Hallidays Point Landcare Group proposed to (then) Greater Taree City Council in 2005. In addition to the walkway upgrade, other projects included the Black Head lookout tower, the path upgrade to Pebbly Beach, bollards and the bridge at Back Beach, and others.

Hallidays Point Landcare Group agreed to manage the approval requirements, coordinate project delivery with Council and to reimburse Council for construction material costs. The Landcare Group prepared an Environmental Impact Study and gained approval for the 7 projects in 2006. The Red Head walkway upgrade is the final one to have been completed.

Norman Shapro, on behalf of Black Head Bazaar Inc. and a former Hallidays Point Landcare Group committee member, in a statement said: "For the Red Head walkway upgrade, Hallidays Point Landcare Group committed $5,000 and added another $3,000 that was earmarked for a Back Beach project that is unlikely to proceed. When Hallidays Point Landcare Group wound up, those funds were transferred to Black head Bazaar Inc. so that it could pay Council. The Red Head Community Group offered $2,000 to Black Head Bazaar Inc., which we'll add to the amount we pay Council. If Council asks for less than $10,000, Black Head Bazaar Inc. will use the remaining funds for other improvements in Hallidays Point.

It's an amazing walkway built with durable recycled plastic grid decking. It won't be slippery in the wet and won't rot. "We're really pleased with the outcome and think it's a great asset for our community."

Packed Community Meeting at Black Head SLSC

It was a full house at the Black Head SLSC on April 19 when MidCoast Council held its regular community update meeting. Over 130 locals came along to listen to a briefing on Council's activities, ask questions, and express their views to assembled Councillors and staff. The team at MidCoast Council would like to thank all of those who attended - your input to our strategy and operations is appreciated and taken on board.

Key discussion points at the Black Head meeting included:

Local Roadworks: recent works on Diamond Beach Road have been completed and rehabilitation works on Black Head Road have resumed following the end of school holidays. Black Head Road works are expected to finish at the end of May depending on weather. To keep up to date with road works in the local area visit midcoast.nsw.gov.au/roads

Manufactured Housing: Consent for the establishment of a manufactured housing estate near Tallwoods was refused by Council in November 2017. The applicant initially lodged an appeal against this decision in the Land and Environment Court, however proceedings have now been discontinued. The applicant has no further appeal rights against Council's decision.

Council's proposed office relocation: MidCoast Council's administrative staff currently work across a range of offices in Forster, Taree and Gloucester. This is a legacy of the merging of the former Great Lakes, Greater Taree City and Gloucester Shire councils, and the incorporation of MidCoast Water into the new Council. Having staff in dispersed locations creates operational inefficiencies for Council and its customers. With this in mind Council purchased the former Masters site in Biripi Way Taree with a view to making the site a consolidated administrative centre for staff (from Forster and Taree). The purchase was strategic with $25m of infrastructure on the site, and a purchase price of $7m.

Council is currently undertaking investigations to get detailed costings on the proposed move. This is part of a "gateway" approval process for Councillors to make a decision on the feasibility of the proposed office consolidation. The next stages would include development of a funding strategy and a capital expenditure review through the Office of Local Government.

Should the move not proceed MidCoast Council will investigate commercial options for the site.

Council's plans on exhibition: MidCoast Council's Delivery Program (2018-2021) and Operational Plan (2018-2019) is on public exhibition until 15 June 2018. www.midcoast.nsw.gov.au/HYS

Great Plans Ahead for Our Club and Our Community

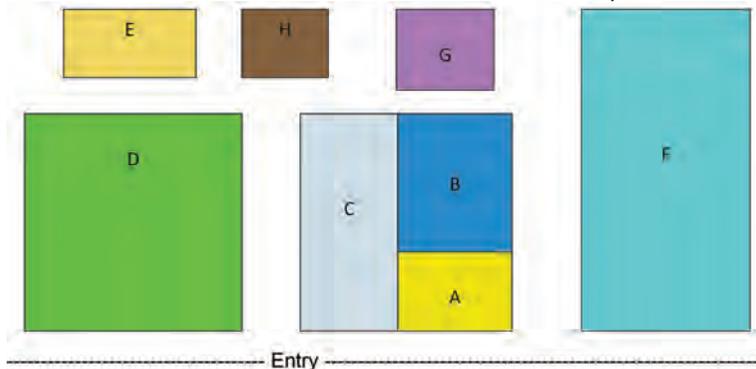

Our membership has risen from 700 in 2016 to 1175 in May 2018 which clearly shows that the community want their club to prosper and the Board of Directors at Club Blackhead have recognised the need to move with the times and cater to the wishes of most members.

We are still focused on our heritage of being a bowling club but we ALL need to understand that, as unfortunate as it is, Bowls alone cannot be the only interest or activity within our club.

In moving with the times and changing to a Sporting Club which will accommodate all community groups, we will create new facilities to accommodate families, functions, and alfresco seating.

Two meetings have been held with the Hallidays Point sporting groups and a very positive vibe is apparent and we would like to share this vision with all community members.

- A. - Kids Playground equipment
- B. - Al fresco area - seat with umbrellas
- C. - Open play area with netball rings, mini soccer goals etc – can also double as 3 x bowling rinks if required
- A-B-C - Fencing to segregate areas and for the safety of the children
- D. - Full repaired / renovated Bowling green
(The vision: turn the green into synthetic for multi-purpose area, Bowls, netball training, soccer training etc)
- E. - Bowls meeting room, heaters, urn, fridge, investigate the legalities for alcohol service
- F. - Club House, (The Vision, turn the existing al-fresco area into extension of the club, change the hut into kid’s game area)
- G. - Designated Smoking Area
- H. - Green Keepers shed – (The vision, turn one side into male and female toilets)

The group has also discussed sponsorships, sporting grants and community events so we can all participate. We have formed a new sports committee, and working with representatives of the Board, the focus of giving back to our community and to change the club into a family friendly club is a priority.

Bowlers will realise that this decision is in the best interest of the club and the community as we move forward successfully into the future, growing and prospering in exciting times ahead.

Lakesway & Blackhead Road Intersection

The following is correspondence via email to MidCoast Council from Alan Tickle and Council's reply:

Dear Councillors,

I refer to my previous correspondence imploring that because of the nature of the Blackhead Lakesway intersection, a request to lower speed limit, be referred to the Traffic Committee.

Did that occur?

For your information, since my serious accident on Feb 21st where both drivers suffered significant injury, there have been two further accidents.

You are reminded that there is a lot going on at that intersection and it is particularly risky at holiday time.

Clearer lane division such as concrete fixtures coupled with a speed reduction from the northern approach may be an answer to add to present treatment. That is also the view of a senior officer from RFS who are often called upon to clean up following collisions.

The current situation remains a disaster in waiting and clearly is not working.

I was very lucky. Some would however question my luck, considering that my compressed spinal fracture will always remain compressed and my lung is still partially collapsed. Lucky, I guess is that I am alive and did not end up a paraplegic.

I do not want a fatality at that intersection before action is taken.

I have been informed that the member for Myall Lakes has requested action from RMS.

Support from Council, I suggest is the least the Hallidays Point Community expect of you.

I have CC'd Lineve Clarke, as the acting GMs email bounced, the intent being that my email is formally received and dealt with.

I have also copied the Editor Hallidays Point News, my fellow Committee members of Hallidays Point Community Liaison & Progress Association (CLAPA) and the Myall Lakes Electorate office of Mr. Bromhead & Fairfax Media.

I look forward to a response and updates to the Secretary of CLAPA, Mr. Chris Holland, whose email address you have.

Regards, Alan Tickle

Good afternoon Alan,

On behalf of the Mayor, David West, and Council's Acting General Manager, Steve Embry, I acknowledge receipt of your emails received regarding the Black Head/Lakes Way intersection.

Further to your request that Council's Local Traffic Committee (LTC) review the speed limit at the Blackhead/Lakesway intersection, I have spoken with Council's Senior Transport Engineer, Richard Wheatley, who has provided the following advice:

- Roads and Maritime Services (RMS) are currently undertaking a review of the speed limit along The Lakes Way at Blackhead Road intersection following your accident in February. They have not announced their decision on this speed limit review.
- Richard has requested the Police provide details on these recent crashes to determine what may be the contributing factors in each of them.
- Richard will organise an on site meeting with the Police and RMS to investigate the intersection focusing on the recent crashes.
- A report will be provided to the next Local Traffic Committee (LTC) meeting (June) on the intersection and these crashes.

Regards, Lineve Dwyer, Executive Assistant

Thank a Firefighter St Florian's Day

Member for Myall Lakes, Stephen Bromhead paid tribute to the amazing dedication of all serving fire fighters in the MidCoast community who continue to follow in the footsteps of St Florian, the Patron Saint of fire fighters.

The 4th of May is International Fire Fighters' Day, or St Florian's Day, and is celebrated by both NSW Fire & Rescue and the NSW Rural Fire Service with annual ceremonies at which members are honoured with the Commissioner's highest awards for outstanding acts of bravery of service.

"As a community, we are enormously proud of the selflessness and dedication shown by our local fire fighters, who respond day in and day out to emergencies.

"If you see a Firefighter or are passing a fire station call in and say thanks to the team for the amazing work they do.

"Their bravery sets the finest example for us all and serves as a reminder that our emergency services personnel often go above and beyond the call of duty in protecting their communities," Mr Bromhead said.

Minister for Emergency Services Troy Grant said firefighters go about their jobs quietly never asking for praise or accolades, but it's important their commitment and dedication is recognised.

"Families across the state should be rightly proud of the efforts of our firefighters and I thank each and every one of them for their hard work," Mr Grant said.

"We should never take their contribution for granted, and St Florian's Day is our opportunity to honour them and the incredible work they do."

Stephen Bromhead MP, Member for Myall Lakes

Diamond Beach Rural Fire Brigade

2 Members – 96 Years’ Service

Two members of Diamond Beach Rural Fire Brigade, Captain Russell Gray and Senior Deputy Captain Ronald Smith, were presented with medals on the 2nd of May in recognition of the outstanding contributions they have made to the NSW Rural Fire Service. Between them the Captains of Diamond Beach Brigade have amassed an amazing 96 years active service to firefighting in New South Wales. It was perfect weather for the Investiture Ceremony conducted by His Excellency, Governor David Hurley at Government House Sydney.

Ron was presented with the AFSM along with NSW RFS members David Cordery, Alan Tucker and Peter Wykes.

Russell Gray (L) with District Manager Kam Baker following presentation of his Long Service Medal.

At the Brigade’s AGM in May, Russell Gray was awarded a Long Service Medal in recognition of his 34 years’ service by RFS District Manager Kam Baker. Russell joined the Belrose Rural Fire Brigade in 1984 and was Captain of Belrose Brigade before he and wife Noeline moved to Diamond Beach in 2006 and he transferred to the Diamond Beach RFS. After a stint as Deputy Captain and then Senior Deputy Captain Russell became Captain last year and was unanimously re-elected at the May AGM.

Ron Smith, with 62 years’ service to the RFS, followed last year’s presentation of clasps to his Long Service Medal with one of the highest awards possible for a firefighter in Australia in the Australia Day Honours List. He was awarded the Australian Fire Service Medal which is awarded for distinguished service by a member of an Australian fire service.

Ron joined the Oakville Bushfire Brigade in 1956. The fire station was situated on the Smith family farm and at the time the fire appliances consisted of a farm truck which carried a 1,000-gallon water tank and a Model T Ford which was used to transport knapsacks. As Ron was the only capable driver, at the age of 14 he was given special permission to drive the trucks on the road to fires.

In 1960 he also joined the Windsor Civil Defence (now known as the SES) and was heavily involved with major floods around the Windsor area during the 1960’s, in particular with the boat rescue crews.

In 1976 Ron joined the Kenthurst Brigade where at various times he held the positions of Deputy Captain, Senior Deputy Captain, Captain and President.

In 2003 Ron and his wife Lynne moved to Hallidays Point and he joined the Diamond Beach Brigade. During his time here, he has been a Deputy Captain, Training Officer, President and is currently Senior Deputy Captain and Vice President.

Ron Smith (R) with RFS Commissioner Shane Fitzsimmons AFSM at the Investiture Ceremony, Government House, Sydney.

Martin Davies, Deputy Captain

Rainbow Flat Rural Fire Brigade

Helping In A Different Way

You don’t have to be an active firefighter to help in the work of your local volunteer rural fire brigade. All brigades are happy to welcome new members for a variety of roles. Locally some key ones are in aviation support, catering, communications and community education. Sometimes these roles might be in the brigade, at other times you might be needed somewhere else in the district or further afield. Training will be offered and there is never any obligation to help at any given time or at any particular incident.

If catering is your thing, then consider the Tuncurry catering brigade. This unit supplies nutritious fresh meals and snacks for firefighters on the fire front throughout the district. This friendly group of volunteers is greatly appreciated by all firefighters as there is nothing like a good meal to reinvigorate the body and rejuvenate the mind.

All districts also have communications brigades whose members handle the radio traffic in the district in tandem with our centralised callout system. Communications brigades, like all other Rural Fire Service brigades, have periods of calm interspersed with times of incredible activity. Having good communications is essential to safe, effective firefighting.

We all see footage on the news of the wonderful helicopters and other aircraft, including the amazing Elvis, who work long hours during the peak bushfire season. These aircraft need people to refuel them, top up the water in the tanks or buckets, and generally keep the aircraft in the air. There are usually aircraft based at Taree aerodrome throughout the summer and volunteers are needed, helping to keep the aircraft ready to fight fires up and down the east coast.

The other main non active firefighting work is community engagement, of which this little article in a community newsletter is one example. Our local community engagement brigade, with the help of firefighters from other brigades, runs programs in schools, conducts open days, speaks to community groups and attends various markets, fetes and other events. We also have cadet programs in local high schools and contribute to newsletters and are available to visit your property and help devise ways to reduce your fire risk.

Does any of this sound like you? Then come and join us in this vital work.

For further information, please contact Robyn King,
Community Engagement Officer, Rainbow Flat Brigade on 6559 2041

Pre-June 30 Opportunities to Reduce Tax - by Alan Tickle

It is always wise to seek advice before June 30th from a taxation adviser and this year is no exception.

Superannuation contribution rule changes enable salary and wages earners, to contribute up to $25,000 for the year including employer contributions, as a concessional contribution.

Previously this could only be achieved via a salary sacrificed contribution. Now, personal savings can be contributed, and a tax deduction claimed.

Reducing the impact of Capital Gains Tax:

Tax is payable on the net capital gain at the tax payers marginal rate of tax, so where a deductible contribution to superannuation lowers the taxpayer's income so that the marginal tax rate is lowered, this has the effect of reducing how much tax might otherwise be paid on a realized capital gain, such as from sale of investment property or shares.

Disposing of unrealised capital losses may also be effective in reducing net capital gains.

Downsizer Superannuation Contributions:

Provided a contract dated on or after July 1st, 2018, for sale of a residential property that has been the principal place of residence for ten years or more, there is a one off opportunity for retirees aged over 65, to contribute up to $300,000 each (where a couple is involved) from the home sale proceeds, to superannuation, free of contribution tax.

Why would that be an advantage?

In cases where tax would otherwise be paid on the income earned from investment, placing proceeds to superannuation and then funding a superannuation income stream from either an account based or allocated pension, or fixed rate annuity, produces tax free income.

An opportunity not considered by the Government:

Account based pensions or superannuation funds balances, are broken up as having either taxable or tax -free components.

In the event of death and should those funds pass to a non-financial dependent such as adult children, then death benefit tax at the rate of 15% applies on the taxable component.

This is often not understood nor managed when estate planning such as establishment of Wills and Superannuation Beneficiaries are nominated.

It has been stated in previous columns, that where either the taxation or financial planner is not consulted when that type of action is undertaken, the taxation elements can end up costing an estate considerably.

The potential exists for a retiree who meets downsizer rules, to cash in their superannuation pensions that might contain taxable components and use the downsizer provision to re-contribute, to fund retirement income.

The caveat is that Centrelink considerations should be considered before such action is taken where a pension fund commenced before 1st January 2015 as the grandfathered income test provisions may apply and be lost if the account is closed.

Spouse Super Split:

A strategy surprisingly not used often enough, is electing to transfer 85% of the previous year's deductible contributions to a superannuation member's spouse.

This can be very useful when there is an age difference and an earlier condition of release being met by the receiving spouse or a superannuation pension election becoming available for the spouse.

Hallidays Point Probus

Our Open Day meeting on 1st May started with President Peter Hester welcoming everyone, and he was delighted to introduce our 5 visitors, all of whom were very impressed, so much so that two of them took application forms and a third applied on the spot. This brings our total membership to a healthy 110. A very good effort for a village the size of Hallidays Point.

It being so close to Anzac Day, The Probuss Singers sang "In Flanders Fields", which they had also performed at the Dawn Service, to honour all those who made the ultimate sacrifice to ensure the freedom we have now.

Instead of a 10-minute speaker President Peter had prepared a slide show to illustrate some of the activities our Probuss Club has organised over the years, and he talked about the aims of Probuss: providing intellectual stimulus, and offering fun, fellowship and friendship.

The bridge club is revived under mentor Kim Green, one of our newest members; every Wednesday at the library from 1.30 – about 4 pm. Beginners more than welcome. It's to be a social affair (with a coffee break in between), no playing for sheep stations!

Four men, led by Alan Bates, were in charge of Morning Tea because of Mother's Day later in the month, and they put up a real good spread (obviously Alan had some difficulty in choosing the cakes at Woolies, so he bought one of each). There were also delicious home-made sausage rolls and curried egg sandwiches, nobody needed lunch after this meeting!

Alan Bates (so versatile, this man) filled the slot of the guest speaker, his subject of course being "Mothers". He is a master in getting his audience to participate, and many a memory of what our mothers taught/forbade/advised us was shared. I liked this advice: "Marry rich and suffer in comfort"! We were all taken back to the time when we were someone's child; in my opinion this sort of impromptu speech is delightful.

On Tuesday 8th May it was BBQ and Boules Day again. We do this twice a year, and for about 14 years this event was organised by Allan Buckingham.

He decided it was time someone else had a go, and Helen Bush stepped up to take it on. She did a great job, organising the BBQ and explaining the very strict (not really!) rules of Jeu de Boules. The winner this time was Marilyn Wilson, after a fierce battle with finalists Peter Hester, Guy Struthers and Margaret Waldoock.

Help Divert Hail Damaged Roofing to Dunedoo nothing less will DO

The Dunedoo area was devastated with bush fires in February 2017. Thousands of acres of pastures and kilometres of fencing destroyed, stock lost, and buildings wiped out.

Ron Gallagher President of Dunedoo Lions, towards the end of March this year, was asked if the community could do with some hail damaged roofing, his reply "Thank you for thinking of us, yes we would definitely be interested in the iron"

The conversation was enough motivation to go about making it happen. On Friday May 4 Lions Club of Hallidays Point picked up the first lot of roofing. The roofing is being stock piled before being trucked to Dunedoo.

Much of the iron was simply being sent to our local tips for recycling. Contacting roofers to help out has been well received with all willing to support getting roofing to Dunedoo.

We have been able to acquire two storage locations one at Tallwoods and another at Tuncurry Waste Management Centre.

Our ability to get the job done, is now the challenge. The project involves picking up the roofing at the work site and transporting it to one of the storage locations. The problem is there is an exit of a significant number of members on annual holidays

We need some helpers. Can you donate around three hours a week (or whatever time you can give) over the next month to help pick up roofing?

If your home is in line for re-roofing, why not ask your roofer if Dunedoo can have it?

Please contact Barry Gazzard: Phone/Text: 0425 209 335

Email: barry.gazzard@hallidayspointlions.org.au

This is a wonderful opportunity for our Coastal Community of Hallidays Point to genuinely and practically demonstrate we care about helping the bush fire recovery effort.

Hallidays Point Garden Club

Christine and Bob Ricketts hosted the club's April meeting at their home and garden at Diamond Beach. The day began a little overcast but, like so many recent Autumn days, turned out to be quite hot. This is a great home for garden club meetings and for entertaining in general with its two large decks, one at the front, the other at the rear. The meeting was held on one with the delicious morning tea set out on the other.

Christine and Bob are constantly improving their property and have added a lovely water feature near the pool. They have plans to add a pond at the front of their property and a bank with trees to screen the houses across the road. There was a fabulous display of brilliantly-coloured bougainvillea, some magnificent bottlebrushes, beautiful shade trees and borders planted out with azaleas and rhododendrons. Christine also has an interest in the propagation of plants.

Garden Club members were treated to three demonstrations by Christine of the creation of beautiful floral arrangements, one of which was then auctioned off and bought by member, Margaret Mattiske. Members had kindly provided a wealth of greenery and flowers to help make up these arrangements. Photos of the arrangements can be seen on the club's Facebook page.

Thanks, and appreciation is extended to Christine and Bob for their hospitality.

For any Garden Club enquiries, please contact Secretary, Annie Mayne, on 6559 2570.

Art News - Craft in the Area Hallidays Point Knit Wits

Hallidays Point Knit Wits is a group of local ladies who meet every Monday at our library to knit for charities. Since July 2017 we have donated 65 blankets to "Wrap with Love", a voluntary organisation with hundreds of contributors from around Australia, that distributes knitted blankets to over 75 countries worldwide.

Our group has continued its association with the Samaritans of Taree by donating 54 pairs of fingerless gloves & 110 beanies. Samaritans then distribute these items to the homeless & needy of the Manning-Great Lakes area. We have also provided comfort blankets to Hallidays Point Lions Club for Forster Police to distribute.

We encourage any interested people to come along and join us on Monday mornings. Also, donations of 8ply wool would be gratefully accepted.

Our last Blackhead Bazaar for the summer was held on Sunday 6th. The weather was lovely, and it was a great day to finish off the Bazaar for the season. We appreciate your support throughout the summer months and look forward to seeing you next Spring. Thanks as always to our volunteer cooks and assistants at the bazaar, we couldn't do without them.

Our General Meeting was held on Monday 28 May at 10.00am and we thank our Members who attended. Discussion items will be advised next month

We had a most enjoyable day visiting the Hillview Herb Farm at Gloucester on Tuesday 8th. Karen was our hostess and had us enthralled by the interesting history of the development of the herb farm. A lovely lunch was provided utilising an array of herbs and made us all want to take our herbs home and get them into the ground as soon as possible! As well as herbs, there were many delicious teas, salad dressings, flavoured salts as well as beauty products to sample. Shopping bags full, we then made a short stop to the Book Barn at Gloucester on our way home and finished with afternoon tea at Wingham Brush.

Our next trip is on Tuesday 12 June when we will travel to Bulahdelah to visit and hear a commentary on the historic courthouse, then via the back way to the punt and on to Tea Gardens for lunch. The list is now on the notice board at the community centre, so please put your name down.

We remind potential new members that we play bingo, cards, croquet, do Tai Chi, hold art classes, enjoy poetry readings and take monthly bus trips. We also hold information sessions with guest speakers. If you're new to the area, come along and join us.

By the way, just because we're called the Senior Citizens, doesn't mean that we are, we're really the "young at hearts"!

Blue Wrens – oh so cute but oh so unfaithful

If you have a group of Blue Wrens in your garden you are very lucky, they are such a picture-perfect family unit with delightful personalities. There is dad, the male Blue Wren has dazzling blue plumage on his head, mum is a dull brown version of dad and then there are several helpers, offspring from previous broods. They mostly feed on the ground and in low thickets. The family feeds together as a small social group eating garden insects like grasshoppers. Dad is a fierce protector of his family; my sister has had a wren at her house that will attack his own reflection on a window for hours!

But the "happy family" is not quite as it seems. When the breeding season starts so begins a string of illicit affairs. Before dawn each day both mum and dad will sneak out into neighbouring territories for romantic trysts with other wrens.

This behaviour has earned them the title of being the most unfaithful bird in the animal kingdom. Scientists (rather boring) explanation is that the birds do this because laying lots of eggs fertilised by different males increases the genetic health of the overall population.

To hatch their new brood the Mum builds a nest about 1 metre above the ground in a tight thicket of dense shrubs. She fashions the nest from spider's webs, twigs and grass and lines it with feathers and animal hair. Only the female bird sits on the eggs but the others in the social group feed and protect the newly hatched babies, leaving mum to lay up to three broods per season.

If you want to attract the wrens to your garden plant dense bushes in a corner to offer fairy-wrens protection from predators and a safe place to nest. Some of their favourite protective plants include Lemon Bottlebrush, Lemon-scented Darwinia and Hakeas. A birdbath placed near dense bushes will also entice these pretty birds into the garden. They like the bath to be close to bushes, so they have somewhere safe to quickly fly to if they see a predator.

And just one last note, the birdwatchers will tell you that the Blue Wrens real name on his birth certificate is Superb Fairy-wren.

Fishing News

I continue to be fascinated by the resilience and reliability of nature. We have the luxury of being able to refer to a calendar not so our piscatorial friends in the salt water. However, it is uncanny that we know the sea mullet will run in the later part of April, joined by the first of the whales, both travelling north. This exodus will be followed in May by bream and blackfish. Tailor and garfish are also abundant. Meanwhile the whiting and flathead have tapered off and will appear again in summer.

This pattern (and much more) repeats itself year after year and this continuing sequence is the financial life blood of the professional fishermen and at the same time providing a lot of fun for thousands of anglers who are better able to fill their bags if they utilise this knowledge. There are many natural things that are triggers for these migrations – currents, water temperatures, wind direction and so on.

It is not uncommon for the schools of mullet to mass to many tonnes and provide spectacular and repeated scenes of carnage by sharks and dolphins. One particular scene on Facebook, taken by a drone near Hagen's Rock at Forster shows a hapless school corralled by over a dozen grey nurse sharks and also harried by a pod of dolphins. Several locals viewed a large shark of Black Head Beach completely out of the water and horizontal, feverishly chasing mullet.

An app. has shown the statistics of the catch and tag of sharks between the end of October to the beginning of March. Of 261 tagged at this time only 36 were tiger sharks, and there were NO bull sharks and the remainder were white pointers – far in excess of those in the Ballina and Byron Bay area which has generated much publicity.

Tailor provides the best action on the beach, many of creditable size with Tim McNamara with his usual successful catch using metal lures, on Tuncurry Beach. They are also plentiful off 7 Mile, Diamond and the rocks.

Only the odd bream has been landed at this stage, but they'll be here. Worms, pipis, fish bait, prawns and yabbies are the popular baits and fish in creamy, agitated waters - rarely taken in still green water. Luke, from Tuncurry Tackle, told me the first of the blackfish (luderick) are showing. Harder to find, however, is the green weed to catch although I've seen an artificial plastic replica used with some success.

Have a look at this 11Kg monster of a snapper, Josh Trotter caught near Snapper rock and another great one of 10Kg boated by Brad Baxter - again. Josh's is the largest I've heard of in my 50 plus years fishing here and his was one of dozens of boats fishing around this area, most trying their luck chasing spotty and spanish mackerel.

I'm hearing fantastic reports from many off-shore anglers some going very wide and "bagging out" on many species including large flathead, teraglin, snapper and even cod. It all sounds rosy for the coming weeks so...

Good Fishing, Trevor

Tank's Corner

Hi to everyone (Pets and Owners). My Dad has asked me to tell you of some temporary opening times of Diamond Beach Veterinary Clinic for the period 14th June to 24th July.

During this period the Clinic will be open 8.30am to 12.30pm Monday to Friday.

Emergency Services will be available at ALL other times by calling 65592277. Breck Muir (Veterinary Surgeon) and Jess Carrick (Veterinary Nurse) will attend the above opening hours. Unfortunately, I will not be in attendance during this time as my sore typing paws will be recovering at home. Please call in and see me (or maybe my staff - Dad, Mum, Breck and Jess) after this period as I am hoping Dad and Mum will have plenty of stories about their holiday. I will have to supervise them to make sure they don't get all the attention which is usually reserved for me!

Please keep your Pets warm during Winter, but avoid placing them in front of Fans, Heaters and fires, as the heat can burn the back of your Pets throat. Don't leave your Pet in a car with the heater on as they can get too hot. I like Hot Dogs, but not hot dogs. I will talk to you all again most likely in the October newsletter. All the best for the Winter period and keep up with the Tick preventatives.

Lots of Licks. TANK.

Michael's Computer Trouble Shooting

To Update or Not to Update? That is the question.

Yes, I know what it is like. You're working away on that important document and a message window pops up on your screen saying something needs to be updated. It always seems to happen at the most inopportune times or you're not sure if you need to update this software. So, you click later.

As much as these updates are a pain in the butt, there are good reasons for keeping your computer up to date.

Hackers and cyber criminals are always looking for ways to exploit holes in the code of different pieces of software, most particularly your operating system. For most people, this is Windows, although Apple and Linux operating systems are vulnerable too. There is a sophisticated game of cat and mouse going on in the cyber world that you don't see until you get attacked in some way. The baddies find holes in some software code that gives them access to your computer in some way. The software developers then rewrite that code to block the baddies, so the baddies find another entry point and so on.

So, it is important to let your updates run ASAP. Windows pretty much forces them onto you nowadays. It can be annoying that when you go to shut down, windows makes you wait for an update to be installed, but at least it is done.

Your anti-virus software is the next most important update. Every day your AV software updates its signatures. These signatures are the software's way of identifying new threats. These updates should be done ASAP. Your browser is the next thing to keep up to date. I prefer to use Google Chrome, which updates itself regularly, but you can check for updates in the help section in the system toolbar (three little dots in the top right of the toolbar).

Other pieces of software that may require updates include JavaScript and Flash Player (both should be done when prompted), Microsoft Office, accounting packages like MYOB, your media player and even some games can improve with being updated.

If an update screws up your system, and they do occasionally, remember you can use the system restore feature in Windows to take you back to before it was installed.

Good Luck, Michael, Gallen

HP Sports Club

In early April, just prior to the soccer season officially kicking off, Hallidays Point Sports Clubs Under 12s competed in a Gala Day held at the Omaru Park in Taree. This was the first time these boys had played together as a team and had also needed to borrow two boys from the 13s. Up until this age group they had played on smaller fields, so it was going to be a great test of their endurance to play on a full field, as well as a chance to practice their positions in preparation for the comp to start.

It was an extremely hot day, which seemed to bother their sideline spectators/cheer squad a lot more than them...nothing was going to stop them (and nothing lots of water, oranges and a few lollies couldn't fix)! After 6 games and some wonderful soccer they were undefeated and made it through to the Grand Final. They came up against Western Phoenix Football Club from Telegraph Point for the Grand Final and at full time it was 1-1...a great game to watch!! Hallidays Point was declared the winners based on being undefeated all day, as well as the goal differences in the days games. Coach Tim Stenning was SUPER proud of their efforts, as were all their families who had cheered them on all day. Each player received a certificate and the team was presented with a $150 voucher for sports supplies for the club.

Cans for Clay

Hi!

My name is Clay Williams and I am a local Hallidays Point boy. As some of you may be aware, I was selected to play in the Australian U10's Futsal team which will be touring New Zealand in October.

With help from the local community, my mum and I have been collecting cans and bottles for recycling to help raise some money towards the costs. And boy have we been busy!

We have managed to raise $1641.45!!!! That's a LOT of cans and bottles!

I would like to say a big THANK YOU to everyone who has donated cans and bottles so far, or donated money towards my trip. I can't believe how much support I have received. We really do live in a fantastic community!

If you would like to donate your cans or bottles please call my mum, Sandy on 0438323362 and we will arrange pick up! We will be collecting right up until October! Thank you!

How can I trust that person again?

Rarely a week goes by that I don't have someone say to me – with all that is true for them – “After they did that, I realised I could never trust them again.”

Part of me completely gets where they are coming from – sometimes the actions they have just shared with me are tough. A parent not returning children when they had agreed to, a work mate making derogatory remarks about them in front of the rest of the team, a neighbour poisoning common trees because they blocked a view.

But another big part of me thinks – if that's the case, you've got a long and painful road in front of you, particularly if you need to continue to share your life in some way with this person.

And that's what I tell them – just not so bluntly.

But let's back track a bit. Trust is a big-ticket item in today's world Type “trust” into dictionary.com and you'll read:

Noun: reliance on the integrity, strength, ability, surety, etc., of a person or thing; confidence.

Keep scrolling and you'll also learn:

Verb: to have trust or confidence in; rely or depend on.

Trust is crucial in today's globally spread, digitally enhanced, media manipulated world. Without trust, we doubt what is said and done by that other person (or organisation or institution) and our relationships cannot function in a way that is healthy and positive for all involved. A common scenario of losing trust

So, let's go back to the comment “After they did that, I realised I could never trust them again.” What's typically happened? The scenario usually looks like this:

- Person X does Y to you
- You decide you can no longer trust Person X
- You got hurt by Person X when they did Y

But what if Person X stopped doing Y? Or apologised for doing it? Or promised never to do it again? What do you gain or lose by not trusting Person X again?

Rebuilding trust through being trust worthy

In an engaging and insightful TEDx talk by Onora O'Neill (What we don't understand about trust), she challenges some common perceptions regarding the notion of trust. One of my favourite lines from her talk is “Trust...is distinctive because it's given by other people. You can't rebuild what other people give you. You have to give them the basis for giving you their trust. ...you have to provide usable evidence that you are trust worthy....If you make yourself vulnerable to the other party, then that is very good evidence that you are trustworthy.”

In many of our key relationships – partners, family members, work colleagues, neighbours – we have some degree of dependence. We rely on each other. In many of our key relationships – we may slip up. Which can in turn lead to a loss of trust. When this happens, I encourage you to stop and ask yourself – what could we do or say to show that we are worthy of each other's trust?

Want to stop arguing and move on?

When we get caught in a negative situation with someone, it's hard to see a way forward.

With the help of a professionally trained mediator, you can move on.
